TO: William J. Whelan

SUBJECT: Faculty Senate Legislation #92020(B) -
Resolution on Overtime Teaching Compensation

I regret that I cannot agree with the Senate, again, on the proposed required pay for "overtime" teaching.

This University is too large, complex, and varied for such central mandates. There are too many variables. What is "overtime," for example, is far from clear in many cases. The system of fair, reasonable negotiation between a department chairman or dean and a faculty member has served us well.

Subject: Overtime Teaching Compensation

This is to remind you that Provost Glaser had suggested that the Senate's March 22 resolution on overtime teaching compensation be discussed at the April 7 meeting of the Academic Deans Policy Council.

Inadvertently, I understand, the item is not on the agenda for that meeting but, as agreed with the Provost, it should be raised under other business.

A copy of the resolution is attached.

Dear George:

Part-time, Overtime Teaching Compensation

It came to our notice, as per the attached correspondence, that the President did not approve the proposed Senate legislation on part-time, overtime teaching compensation. In his note to you, Tad suggested that you and he discuss the matter.

We have the feeling that we ought to move on this subject, and I write to ask what is your recollection of any suggestions from the President as to how the matter might be handled?

Many thanks.

Yours sincerely,
