Re: Change of Degree Name for Arts Presenting (MPR)

The Frost School of Music submitted for initial plan approval the Master of Music in Arts Presenting to the National Association of Schools of Music. Their response was that the degree would be much more appropriately labeled as Master of Arts in Arts Presenting.

This memorandum is to request a change in the degree from Master of Music to Master of Arts. All aspects of the program remain the same as the various bodies of the University approved them last year, all necessary codes have been established within UM, and we have accepted students who will be starting the program this Fall semester.

SUBJECT: Change of Arts Presenting Degree

DATE: August 19, 2009

The Frost School of Music and I approve of the name change from "Master of Music in Arts Presenting" to "Master of Arts in Arts Presenting". The name change better represents accrediting guidelines for this program. It is also more suitable to the student population, some of whom will not have completed their undergraduate degrees in Bachelor of Music programs.

Subject: Name change – Master of Arts in Arts Presenting

Please be advised that the Department of Music, Media, and Industry has approved the change in name from "Master of Music in Arts Presenting" to "Master of Arts in Arts Presenting". The MA is more in line with the guidelines of the National Association of School of Music and be more appropriate for the student population applying to the program.
