MEMORANDUM

To: Julio Frenk
University President

From: Tomás A. Salerno
Chair, Faculty Senate

Date: February 5, 2018

Subject: Faculty Senate Legislation #2017-18 (B) – Change the Name of the Miami Global Executive Master of Business Administration (MBA) for the Americas Program TO the Global Executive MBA Program, Business School

[Reference Legislation #2016-28, #2017-17, and #2017-19 through #2017-23]

The Faculty Senate, at its January 31, 2018 meeting, voted unanimously to approve the proposal of the Business School to change the name of the Miami Global Executive MBA for the Americas program to the Global Executive MBA Program. This is a program name change only; there are no changes to any other aspects of the program, length, credit requirements or modality. The name is being changed to better reflect the program's curriculum, to remove any confusion in the title and to align closer to commonly accepted practices at peer institutions.

This legislation is sent to you for your action.

The John Knoblock Faculty Senate Office
325 Ashe Administration Building
Coral Gables, Florida 33146

Dear Faculty Senate members:

The Miami Business School has undertaken a comprehensive curriculum review in an effort to improve, update, and optimize its program offerings.

The following twelve proposals are the result of a four-month long process that began with focus groups in each of our graduate programs. Focus groups included input from faculty and staff, students, recruiters, employers, corporate partners, and our Board of Overseers.

Respectfully,

RE: Removal of Concentrations from FT Two-Year MBA Program

On December 18, 2017, the School of Business notified my office of its intent to remove the optional concentrations from the existing full-time, two-year MBA program (academic plan code: BUSA_MBA) in favor of electives. This change is being made in response to input from key constituencies including alumni, current students, and employers. The proposed change will provide students with greater flexibility and add more breadth to their curriculum.

The full-time, two-year MBA program requires successful completion of 56 credit hours including 22 credit hours of electives. To complete the electives, students may choose to pursue an optional concentration. The program currently offers the following optional concentrations in Business Technology, Finance, International Business, Management, Management Science, Marketing, Mergers and Acquisitions, and Real Estate. The proposal will eliminate these concentrations. Instead, students will simply choose electives.

This proposal does not “represent a significant departure, either in content or method of delivery” from what we are currently approved by SACSCOC to offer due to the following:

- The proposed change does not affect the program length and the program length meets the SACSCOC requirement of a minimum of 30 credit hours for a graduate program.
- The proposed change does not affect the degree requirements as the concentrations were optional.
- No new courses will be offered as a result of these changes.
- No new faculty will be hired as a result of these changes.
- No changes are proposed in the modality of the program.
- The graduate program still covers the literature in the field through its required coursework.
- The graduate program still ensures appropriate professional practice and training experiences through a required summer internship (noncredit) and required coursework on career development.

SACSCOC only requires notification of program changes that represent a significant departure from our current programs. Therefore, no notification or approval is required for this change.

RE: Name Change for Miami Global Executive MBA for the Americas Program

On December 18, 2017, the School of Business notified my office of its intent to change the name of the Miami Global Executive MBA for the Americas program (academic plan code: MBAA_MBA) to the Global Executive MBA program. Please note that this is a program name change only; the academic credential, Master of Business Administration (MBA), earned through the program will remain the same. This change is being made to alleviate confusion among prospective students, to align better with the program's curriculum, and to conform to commonly accepted practice at peer institutions.

The Miami Global Executive MBA for the Americas program is a hybrid program designed for senior executives. The program requires successful completion of 45 credit hours through blended face-to-face on-campus modules and distance learning.

The proposed name change does not "represent a significant departure, either in content or method of delivery" from what we are currently approved by SACSCOC to offer due to the following:

- The proposed change does not affect the program length and the program length meets the SACSCOC requirement of a minimum of 30 credit hours for a graduate program.
- The proposed change does not affect the degree requirements as no changes to the curriculum are being proposed.
- No new courses will be offered as a result of the proposed change.
- No new faculty will be hired as a result of the proposed change.
- No changes are proposed in the modality of the program.
- The graduate program still covers the literature in the field through its required coursework.
- The graduate program still ensures appropriate professional practice and training experiences through a required Integrated Business Project (BUS 656).

SACSCOC only requires notification of program changes that represent a significant departure from our current programs. Therefore, no notification or approval is required for this change.

RE: Name Change and Restructuring of Certificate in Business Administration

On December 18, 2017, the School of Business notified my office of its intent to change the name of the (graduate) Certificate in Business Administration program (academic plan code: GBCT_CBUM) to the Graduate Business Certificate program, to reduce the program length from 16 credit hours to 14 credit hours, and to completely restructure the curriculum from four 4-credit-hour courses to seven 2-credit-hour courses. Please note that the proposed name change is a program name change only; the academic credential, Certificate, earned through the program will remain the same in compliance with University standards. The proposed name change is being made to distinguish the credit-bearing certificate from non-credit certificates offered through the School's Executive Education program and to update the name. The proposed changes in the program length and curriculum are being made based on the market demand, feedback from program faculty and students, and to conform to commonly accepted practice at peer institutions.

The current Certificate in Business Administration program is a graduate certificate that requires successful completion of four (4-credit-hour) required, interdisciplinary courses (BUS 630, BUS 631, BUS 632, and BUS 633). The proposed Graduate Business Certificate program will replace these four courses with seven existing 2-credit disciplinary courses which cover the same content areas as follows:

- BUS 630 Fundamentals of Economics, Accounting, and Finance will be replaced with ACC 670 Financial Reporting and Analysis and FIN 641 Financial Decision Making.
- BUS 631 Statistics for Managerial Decision Making will be replaced with MAS 631 Business Analytics and Operational Excellence.
- BUS 632 Introduction to Strategy, Market, and Management will be replaced with MGT 620 Managing through People and MKT 640 Foundations of Marketing Management.
- BUS 633 Business Plan Fundamentals and Communications will be replaced with BUS 610 Critical Thinking and Persuasion for Business and MGT 677 Corporate Strategy and Organization.

The proposed changes do not "represent a significant departure, either in content or method of delivery" from what we are currently approved by SACSCOC to offer due to the following:

- SACSCOC does not impose minimum program length standards on certificates.

- Although all of the current courses are being eliminated, they are being replaced with existing courses that cover the same content areas. Consequently, there is no substantial change to the content of the curriculum.
- No new faculty will be hired as a result of the proposed changes.
- No changes are proposed in the modality of the program.

SACSCOC only requires notification of program changes that represent a significant departure from our current programs. Therefore, no notification or approval is required for this change.

RE: Name Change and Restructuring of Master of Science in Management Studies

On December 18, 2017, the School of Business notified my office of its intent to change the name of the Master of Science in Management Studies degree (academic plan code: GBCT_MSMS) to the Master of Science in Management degree and to restructure the curriculum. The proposed changes are being made based on feedback from program faculty and students, and to conform to commonly accepted practice at peer institutions.

The current Master of Science in Management Studies program requires successful completion of 30 credit hours that include 16 credit hours from the embedded Certificate of Business Administration curriculum and 8 credit hours from the embedded Certificate in Leadership curriculum. The Certificate in Business Administration program is replacing its curriculum of four 4-credit-hour courses to seven existing 2-credit-hour disciplinary courses which cover the same content areas as follows:

- BUS 630 Fundamentals of Economics, Accounting, and Finance will be replaced with ACC 670 Financial Reporting and Analysis and FIN 641 Financial Decision Making.
- BUS 631 Statistics for Managerial Decision Making will be replaced with MAS 631 Business Analytics and Operational Excellence.
- BUS 632 Introduction to Strategy, Market, and Management will be replaced with MGT 620 Managing through People and MKT 640 Foundations of Marketing Management.
- BUS 633 Business Plan Fundamentals and Communications will be replaced with BUS 610 Critical Thinking and Persuasion for Business and MGT 677 Corporate Strategy and Organization.

Since the certificate program is embedded within the master's program, these changes will also be made to the proposed Master of Science in Management curriculum. The Certificate in Leadership program is replacing one of its required courses with an option of one of two 2-credit-hour courses, MGT 618 Leading Change and MGT 623 Human Resource Systems. MGT 618 is a new course offering. Since the certificate program is embedded within the master's program, this change will also be made to the proposed Master of Science in Management curriculum. In addition, a new 2-credit-hour course will be required, MGT 616 Foundations in Organizational Management Consulting.

The proposed changes do not “represent a significant departure, either in content or method of delivery” from what we are currently approved by SACSCOC to offer due to the following:

- The proposed changes do not affect program length and it meets the SACSCOC requirement of a minimum of 30 credit hours for a graduate program.
- Although some current courses are being eliminated, they are being replaced with existing courses that cover the same content areas. Consequently, there is no substantial change to the content of the curriculum.
- While a new course is being added, it does not substantially change the content of the curriculum.
- No new faculty will be hired as a result of the proposed changes.
- No changes are proposed in the modality of the program.
- The graduate program still covers the literature in the field through its required coursework.
- The graduate program still ongoing student engagement in research and/or appropriate professional practice and training experiences through a required, individually supervised research project in selected field of management.

SACSCOC only requires notification of program changes that represent a significant departure from our current programs. Therefore, no notification or approval is required for this change.

RE: Name Change and Restructuring of Master of International Business Studies

On December 18, 2017, the School of Business notified my office of its intent to change the name of the Master of International Business Studies degree (academic plan code: INBS_MIBS) to the Master of International Business degree, to reduce the program length from 35 credit hours to 31-34 credit hours, and to restructure the curriculum. The proposed changes are being made based on feedback from program faculty and students, to fill gaps identified in the curriculum, to reflect proposed changes in the embedded Certificate in Business Administration curriculum, and to conform to commonly accepted practice at peer institutions.

The current Master of International Business Studies program requires successful completion of 35 credit hours that include 16 credit hours from the embedded Certificate of Business Administration curriculum. The certificate program is replacing its curriculum of four 4-credit-hour courses with seven existing 2-credit-hour disciplinary courses which cover the same content areas as follows:

- BUS 630 Fundamentals of Economics, Accounting, and Finance will be replaced with ACC 670 Financial Reporting and Analysis and FIN 641 Financial Decision Making.
- BUS 631 Statistics for Managerial Decision Making will be replaced with MAS 631 Business Analytics and Operational Excellence.
- BUS 632 Introduction to Strategy, Market, and Management will be replaced with MGT 620 Managing through People and MKT 640 Foundations of Marketing Management.
- BUS 633 Business Plan Fundamentals and Communications will be replaced with BUS 610 Critical Thinking and Persuasion for Business and MGT 677 Corporate Strategy and Organization.

Since the certificate program is embedded within the master's program, these changes will also be made to the proposed Master of International Business curriculum. In addition, a required course, BUS 604 Career Development and Enrichment will no longer be required and another required course, MKT 645 International Marketing will be replaced with MKT 675 Marketing Analytics. Students with a statistical background will be able to opt out of a required course, MAS 631 Business Analytics and Operational Excellence, through a waiver exam. Students who are selected to participate in the Global Business Consulting course (BUS 622) will be able to opt out of 4 credit hours of international business electives. These changes reduce the program length from 35 credit hours to a range of 31 to 34 credit hours.

The proposed changes do not “represent a significant departure, either in content or method of delivery” from what we are currently approved by SACSCOC to offer due to the following:

- The proposed program length range meets the SACSCOC requirement of a minimum of 30 credit hours for a graduate program.
- Although some current courses are being eliminated, they are being replaced with courses that cover the same content areas. Consequently, there is no substantial change to the content of the curriculum.
- No new faculty will be hired as a result of the proposed changes.
- No changes are proposed in the modality of the program.
- The graduate program still covers the literature in the field through its required coursework.
- The graduate program still ensures appropriate professional practice and training experiences through a required experiential component involving Global Learning Opportunities in Business Education (GLOBE).

SACSCOC only requires notification of program changes that represent a significant departure from our current programs. Therefore, no notification or approval is required for this change.

RE: Restructuring of Certificate in Leadership

On December 18, 2017, the School of Business notified my office of its intent to restructure the curriculum of the (graduate) Certificate in Leadership (academic plan code: GLDS_CBUB). The proposed change is being made for greater efficiency and to incorporate a global component within the certificate.

The current Certificate in Leadership program requires successful completion of 8 credit hours through four 2-credit-hour courses: MGT 618 Leading Change, MGT 621 High Performance Leadership, MGT 622 High Performance Teams, and MGT 699 Individual Assessment and Coaching in Leadership Skills. The proposed change will replace the latter required course with an option of one of two 2-credit-hour courses, MGT 617 Leading across Cultures or MGT 623 Human Resource Systems.

The proposed change does not "represent a significant departure, either in content or method of delivery" from what we are currently approved by SACSCOC to offer due to the following:

- The proposed change does not affect the program length and SACSCOC does not impose minimum program length standards on certificates.
- Although one course requirement is being changed, it does not substantially change the content of the curriculum.
- No new faculty will be hired as a result of the proposed changes.
- No changes are proposed in the modality of the program.

RE: Restructuring of Master of Science in Business Analytics Curriculum

On December 18, 2017, the School of Business notified my office of its intent to restructure the curriculum of the Master of Science in Business Analytics degree (academic plan code: BUAN_MSBA). The proposed changes are being made to strengthen the program, to provide more flexibility for students, and to conform to commonly accepted practice at peer institutions.

The current Master of Science in Business Analytics program requires successful completion of 32 credit hours that include 20 credit hours in required courses and 12 credit hours in electives. The proposed change will increase the proportion of required courses to 22-24 and reduce electives to 8-10 for a total of 32 credit hours. Specific changes are as follows:

- An existing course, BUS 610 Critical Thinking and Communication will now be required.
- Students will now have the option of completing an internship (MAS 650) rather than the capstone project (MAS 641).
- A new required course will be added, MAS 627 Programming for Data Analytics (2 credit hours).
- Two currently required courses for students without a business degree, BUS 630 Fundamentals of Economics, Accounting and Finance and BUS 632 Introduction to Strategy, Markets and Management (a total of 8 credit hours), will be replaced with one 2-credit-hour course, ACC 670 Financial Reporting and Analysis to provide more flexibility to students.

The proposed changes do not “represent a significant departure, either in content or method of delivery” from what we are currently approved by SACSCOC to offer due to the following:

- The proposed changes do not affect program length and it meets the SACSCOC requirement of a minimum of 30 credit hours for a graduate program.
- Although some course requirements are being changed, there is no substantial change to the content of the curriculum.
- Two new courses are being added but they do not substantially change the content of the curriculum.
- No new faculty will be hired as a result of the proposed changes.

- No changes are proposed in the modality of the program.
- The graduate program still covers the literature in the field through its required coursework.
- The graduate program still ongoing student engagement in research and/or appropriate professional practice and training experiences through a required business analytics capstone project or internship.

SACSCOC only requires notification of program changes that represent a significant departure from our current programs. Therefore, no notification or approval is required for this change.

MEMORANDUM

TO: General Welfare Committee
Faculty Senate

FROM: Patricia Sanchez Abril, Vice Dean, Graduate Business Programs

Subject: Removal of Concentrations: Two-Year Full-Time Master of Business Administration

Date: December 7, 2017

Proposal: To remove “Concentrations” from the Two-Year Full-Time Master of Business Administration (MBA) program in favor of an elective system.

Background: Concentrations were first offered in 1988 under the term “Specialization.” The following concentrations are currently offered to students pursuing the Two-Year Full-Time MBA: Business Technology, Finance, International Business, Management, Management Science, Marketing, Mergers & Acquisitions, and Real Estate (See attached documentation for more information regarding these concentrations and their requirements.)

Reasoning:

- Focus groups with alumni, current students, and recruiters suggests that students and applicants need more “guided flexibility” in their curriculum choices.
- More and more students enter the generalist program undecided of their academic and career aspirations. Many are career-switchers wanting to explore and think in an interdisciplinary way.
- With the growth of our specialized Masters portfolio (See attached chart for full listing of offered specialized Masters), these degrees have become the vehicle for rigorous, in-depth, discipline-specific learning. The MBA should remain flexible and eligible as a generalist “add-on” for these specialized Master’s students.
- Recruiters and employers view concentrations as an endorsement from the SBA that the student is considered a “specialist” in the area of concentration.

Based on feedback from current and former students of the program, recruiters, employers, and faculty and staff, we are proposing removing “Concentrations” from the Two-Year Full-Time MBA program.

Resource Implications: We foresee that this proposal will reduce the number of elective offerings and result in fewer, better courses.

Procedural History:

- Ad Hoc Task Force on Graduate Business Programs - Discussed and approved 11/3/2017
- Graduate Business Programs Committee - Discussed and approved 11/17/2017
- School of Business Administration School Council - Discussed and approved 12/1/2017

Students typically enroll in elective courses during the third and fourth semester of the program. Students may be able to complete a concentration based on completion of appropriate electives. Areas of concentration include: Business Technology, Finance, International Business, Management, Management Science, Marketing, Mergers and Acquisitions and Real Estate. Elective offerings are based on sufficient student demand.

When choosing their electives and concentration, students should carefully consider their performance in the core classes. The grades they get in the core classes are feedback about their suitability for going on with that material—relative to their peers. Because of the bias from self-selecting the electives you take, students who do well in a core class are likely to take electives in that area and students who do not do well are unlikely to choose electives in that area. As such, the competition significantly increases, and students receiving a B grade or lower in a core class should think very carefully before choosing to take electives in that area.

BUSINESS TECHNOLOGY (BTE)

The dependence of organizations on technology has created a demand for individuals who understand such systems and who can apply them in the corporate environment. Accordingly, the concentration in Business Technology is intended to prepare the “Techno” MBA for a career that balances their managerial skills with an understanding of technology, its implementation, and use as an analysis tool in an enterprise context.

Four courses are required for a BTE concentration:

- BTE 601 Programming – Distributed Systems
- BTE 613 Business Intelligence Technologies
- BTE 617 Information Technology Project Management
- BTE 620 Database Development for High Performance Computing
- BTE 622 High Performance Computing
- BTE 689 Entrepreneurship: Launching a High-Tech Venture

FINANCE (FIN)

The area of finance is focused on valuation and decision-making: what is it worth, and what do we do next? This makes the finance function a pivotal part of every organization. The concentration in Finance is designed to prepare students for jobs in this exciting career. The concentration is built on corporate finance and investments. Students then choose from a variety of other electives to complete the finance program.

Five courses are required for a FIN concentration:

- FIN 650 Financial Investments (required)
- FIN 670 Corporate Finance (required)

And three of the following:

- FIN 643 Quantitative Finance & Market Microstructure
- FIN 644 Real Estate Investment and Appraisal
- FIN 645 Real Estate Finance (3-credit class/full-semester)
- FIN 646 Real Estate Market Analysis
- FIN 647 Intro to ARGUS (1-credit class) (Limited to students concentrating in Real Estate)
- FIN 648 Advanced ARGUS (1-credit class) (Limited to students concentrating in Real Estate)
- FIN 651 Advanced Topics in Investments
- FIN 652 Fixed Income Securities
- FIN 653 Alternative Investments
- FIN 660 International Finance
- FIN 661 Advanced Topics in International Finance
- FIN 671 Advanced Topics in Corporate Finance
- FIN 674 Financial Analysis of Mergers and Acquisitions
- FIN 679 Private Equity & Venture Capital
- FIN 681 Financial Institutions
- FIN 683 Financial Modeling
- FIN 685 Mathematics of Financial Derivatives
- FIN 686 Financial Decision Making

As business becomes highly competitive, domestic and international firms need to understand the opportunities available for selling overseas, obtaining supplies from other countries, and using international financial markets.

Four courses are required for an IBU concentration:

BSL 692	Legal Implications of International Business Transactions
BUS 624	Asian/Pacific Business Environment – International Trip (Spring Break 2018) (Tentative)
BUS 625	Latin America Business Environment – International Trip (Spring Break 2018) (Tentative)
BUS 698	Business & Int'l Political Economy – Outset of the 21 st Century
ECO 695	Global Economics
FIN 660	International Finance
FIN 661	Advanced Topics in International Finance
MGT 617	Leading Across Cultures
MGT 680	Doing Business in China
MGT 691	International Management
MGT 698	Mergers & Acquisitions: A Cross Border Perspective
MKT 645	International Marketing

MANAGEMENT (MGT)

The concentration in Management will prepare the MBA graduate for job opportunities that involve managerial responsibilities. The concentration is designed not merely to prepare students for careers in management, but to produce creative thinkers with strong communication and negotiation skills.

Four courses are required for a MGT concentration:

MGT 621	High Performance Leadership (required)
MGT 623	Human Resource Systems (required)

And two of the following:

MGT 617	Leading Across Cultures
MGT 622	High Performance Teams
MGT 624	Negotiation Strategies
MGT 625	Entrepreneurship: Creating New Ventures
MGT 645	Principles of Supply Chain Management
MGT 679	Merger and Acquisition Strategies
MGT 680	Doing Business in China
MGT 691	International Management
MGT 698	Mergers & Acquisitions: A Cross Border Perspective
MGT 698	Public Policy Strategy
HSM 610	Management and Economics of Health Care (3-credit class)

MANAGEMENT SCIENCE (MASG)

The field of Management Science involves the application of quantitative methods and data analytics in the managerial decision making process.

Four classes are required for a MASG concentration:

MAS 629	SAS Programming
MAS 633	Introduction to Quality Management
MAS 634	Administrative Systems for Quality Management
MAS 635	Design of Experiments
MAS 637	Applied Regression Analysis and Forecasting
MAS 638	Management Science Consulting
MAS 639	Data Acquisition, Preparation, and Visualization
MAS 640	Applied Time Series Analysis
MAS 648	Data Mining and Knowledge Acquisition
MAS 649	Big Data Analytics
MAS 651	Machine Learning
MAS 663	Project Management and Modeling

MARKETING (MKT)

Marketing is the process through which organizations develop and distribute products and services that satisfy the needs of customers. Rapidly increasing global competition, emergence of new markets, and technological advancements make today's marketplace a highly dynamic and challenging environment for companies. Effective marketing is crucial for organizations to survive and prosper.

Four courses are required for a MKT concentration:

MKT 641 Marketing Research (required)

And three courses from the following:

MKT 644 Services Marketing
MKT 645 International Marketing
MKT 646 Consumer Behavior
MKT 647 Advertising and Communication Management
MKT 648 New Product Development
MKT 649 Strategic Brand Marketing
MKT 675 Marketing Analytics

MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS (MAQ)

The mergers & acquisitions concentration is a sophisticated cross-disciplinary concentration designed to prepare students who anticipate careers in investment banking, in strategic consulting, or in high-level corporate finance. Drawing from law, management, and finance, the concentration provides students with a rigorous introduction to the theory and practical implementation of mergers and acquisitions.

The following five courses are required for a MAQ concentration:

BSL 691 The Public Corporation: Legal Perspectives
FIN 670 Corporate Finance
FIN 674 Financial Analysis of Mergers and Acquisitions
MGT 679 Merger & Acquisition Strategies
MGT 698 Mergers & Acquisitions: A Cross Border Perspective

Also highly recommended: ACC 672- Advanced Financial Analysis

REAL ESTATE (RLE)

The real estate concentration is for students interested in leadership roles within the real estate industry. Understanding the complexities of the real estate industry, the School's program takes a multidisciplinary approach and utilizes the academic talent and expertise of faculty throughout the University of Miami. The School's location in a high-growth international city provides an ideal environment for students to learn firsthand about the complexities of the commercial real estate market. As part of the coursework, students hone their practical skills by working on projects that focus on local and national development opportunities, including exposure to economic market analysis, feasibility study, loan application proposals and commercial underwriting.

The Real Estate Concentration consists of FIN 644, FIN 645, BSL 694 and two ARGUS (commercial real estate software) classes. In addition, one other course must be selected from the list below, which includes three courses from the School of Architecture. Students who enroll in the Architecture courses must meet any prerequisites established by the School of Architecture.

There are six courses required for a concentration in real estate (RLE):

Required:

BSL 694	Real Estate Law
FIN 644	Real Estate Investment and Appraisal
FIN 645	Real Estate Finance (3-credit class) (full-semester)
FIN 647	Intro to ARGUS (1-credit class) (Limited to students concentrating in Real Estate)
FIN 648	Advanced ARGUS (1-credit class) (Limited to students concentrating in Real Estate)

And one from the following:

FIN 646	Real Estate Market Analysis
MAS 663	Project Management and Modeling
RED 601	Introduction to Real Estate Development and Urbanism (3-credit/full semester class)
RED 660	Urban Infill, Preservation and Mixed Use Development (3-credit/full semester class)
RED 680	Entrepreneurship: Building a Real Estate Development Company (3-credit/full semester class) (Limited to students concentrating in Real Estate)

FROM: Patricia Sanchez Abril, Vice Dean, Graduate Business Programs

Subject: Change of Name: Miami Executive MBA for the Americas TO Global Executive MBA

Date: December 12, 2017

Proposal: Rename the Miami Global Executive MBA for the Americas as follows:

Current: Miami Global Executive MBA for the Americas
Proposed: ~~Miami Global Executive MBA for the Americas~~

Reasoning:

- The current title leads to confusion from prospective and current students as “Global” implies curriculum designed to cover topics in business from an international perspective, yet “Americas” implies a curriculum designed to cover hemispheric topics.
- We have benchmarked against peer and aspirational institutions’ premier executive programs internationally and nationally and determined that the word “Global” is standard and descriptive in high-level executive programs.

Input Gathered: After gathering input from current and former students of the program, recruiters, employers, faculty and staff, and our current marketing agency of record Markham & Stein, we are proposing to simplify the name of the program for marketing purposes.

Resource Implications: None. Website will be updated and Admissions will use remaining inventory of brochures.

Reasoning:

Subject: Credit Change: Graduate Business Certificate

Date: December 12, 2017

Proposal: To reduce the credit requirement of the Graduate Business Certificate (GBC) from 16 to 14 credits due to market demand.

Background: The Graduate Business Certificate (GBC) consists of four 4-credit interdisciplinary courses: Fundamentals of Economics, Accounting, and Finance (BUS 630); Business Analytics and Operational Excellence (BUS 631); Introduction to Strategy, Market, and Management (BUS 632); and Business Plan Fundamentals and Communications (BUS 633).

Reasoning:

- The GBC is targeted to professionals interested in foundational business education. A reduction in credits makes the program more appealing to working people, since it is less expensive and less time consuming. (Program is taught all-day Saturday.)
- Based on feedback from current and former students of the program, and faculty and staff, we are proposing the reduction of credits to the Certificate in Business Administration.

Resource Implications: None.

Subject: Credit Change: Master in International Business

Date: December 12, 2017

Proposal: To reduce the credit requirement of the Master in International Business from 35 to 31-34 credits due to market demand.

Background: The Master in International Business is a 10-month program which seeks to develop global leaders. Currently the program has 28 students.

Reasoning:

- The Certificate in Business Administration is used as a feeder certificate for students entering the Master in International Business. The Certificate in Business Administration is being restructured to be reduced from 16 credits to 14, thus eliminating 2 credits.
- Career Development and Enrichment (BUS 604) is being eliminated from the curriculum, thus eliminating 1 credit. Career development will be covered in Critical Thinking and Persuasion for Business (BUS 610).
- Students will be required to take Statistics for Managerial Decision Making (MAS 631), thus adding 2 additional credits to their curriculum. Student with a statistical background may opt out of the course by taking a waiver exam prior to the start of classes.
- Students who are selected to participate in the Global Business Consulting (BUS 622) course, worth 3 credits, may opt out of taking two international business electives, worth 4 credits, thus reducing the number of required international business elective credits by 1.

Resource Implications: The program will be less expensive to students by $2,000-$6,000. We expect to increase demand.

FROM: Patricia Sanchez Abril, Vice Dean, Graduate Business Programs

Subject: Curriculum Change: Graduate Business Certificate

Date: December 12, 2017

Proposal: To restructure the curriculum for the Graduate Business Certificate to seven 2-credit courses (Financial Reporting and Analysis (ACC 670); Critical Thinking and Persuasion for Business (BUS 6100); Valuation and Financial Decision Making (FIN 641); Statistics for Managerial Decision Making (MAS 631); Managing through People (MGT 620); Corporate Strategy and Organization (MGT 677); and Foundations of Marketing Management (MKT 640)). (See attached diagram for a visual representation.)

Background: The Graduate Business Certificate (GBC) currently consists of four 4-credit interdisciplinary courses: Fundamentals of Economics, Accounting, and Finance (BUS 630); Business Analytics and Operational Excellence (BUS 631); Introduction to Strategy, Market, and Management (BUS 632); and Business Plan Fundamentals and Communications (BUS 633).

Reasoning:

- We have learned through course evaluations, faculty, and students that the interdisciplinary approach of coupling similar areas has proven unsatisfactory.
- Benchmarking of peer and aspirational institutions reveals that most fundamental business certificate curricula require completion of courses that are independent of one another, similar to the curriculum proposed herein. (See attached spreadsheet of peer and aspirational benchmarking.)

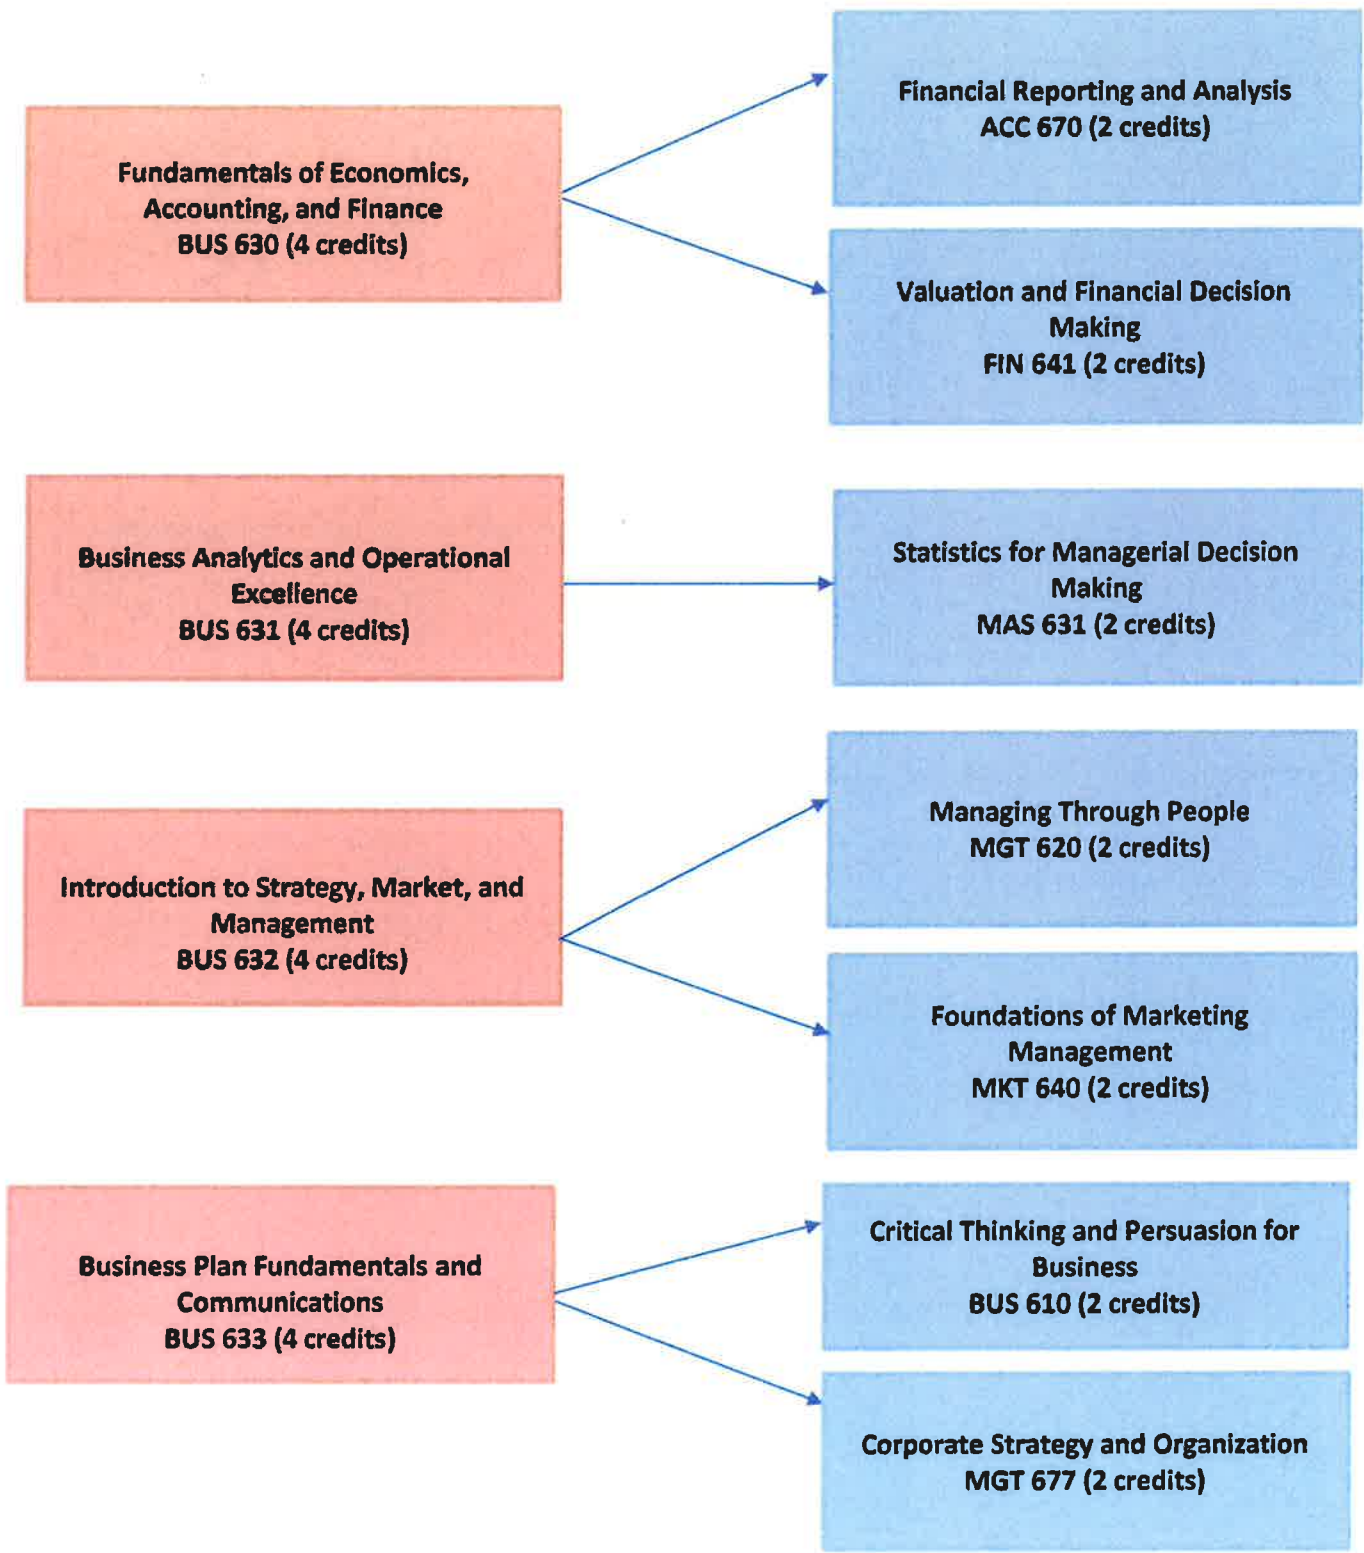

Resource Implications: None.

Current:

Leading Change (MGT 618)

*Please note that courses may be substituted on a case-by-case basis as determined by the program's Academic Director.

Background: The Certificate in Leadership has operated under the current curriculum since 2014. Currently the program has 30 students.

Reasoning:

- Financial and time constraints for the MGT 699 are high for a certificate program, entailing individual one-on-one coaching with each student.
- MGT 617 addresses the need for a global component within this certificate.

Subject: Curriculum Change: Master of Science in Business Analytics

Date: December 12, 2017

Proposal: To restructure the curriculum for the Master of Science in Business Analytics. (See attached proposal and progress sheets by Dr. Yongtao Guan for details.)

Background: The Master of Science in Business Analytics seeks to update its curriculum. Currently the program has 44 students.

Reasoning:

- See attached proposal for details on specific reasoning.

Resource Implications: New course offerings (MAS 627 and MAS/MGT 642).

Procedural History:

- Ad Hoc Task Force on Graduate Business Programs – Discussed and approved 11/3/2017
- Graduate Business Programs Committee – Discussed and approved 11/17/2017
- School of Business Administration – Discussed and approved 12/1/2017

Proposed Changes and Justifications:

Based on our improved knowledge about the field of analytics and careful study of curricula in peer and aspirational institutions, we propose the following changes to our MSBA curriculum.

1. Introduce BUS 610 Critical Thinking and Communication for Business as a required course for all students.

The ability of critical thinking and effective writing and speaking are key for students' placement and future career development. A similar course is required, e.g., in the MSBA curriculum of the University of Southern California, a leading institution in the area of business analytics.

2. Replace two CBA courses with more flexible electives.

The current curriculum for students without a business degree includes BUS 630 – Fundamentals of Economics, Accounting and Finance and BUS 632 – Introduction to Strategy, Markets and Management as required courses. Each course is worth 4 credits. While it's important for the students to have sufficient knowledge in business, most programs offer a flexible set of electives instead of a fixed set of required courses (e.g., see the included curricula for University of Texas at Austin and University of Southern California, two leading institutions in the area of business analytics).

Students without a business degree must take ACC 670 – Financial Reporting and Analysis (2 credits).

3. Introduce MAS 650 Business Analytics Internship as an alternative to BUS 641 Business Analytics Capstone Project.

The purpose of the capstone project course is to provide students with experiential learning opportunities. Having an internship suffices for this purpose. Moreover, it allows students to be properly compensated whenever possible.

4. Include MAS 627 – Programming for Data Analytics as a required course.

Knowledge of data analytics programming languages such as R is necessary for anybody looking for a role as a data analyst today. Currently, R programming is taught in a boot camp without charge and in MAS 639 alongside other topics. Moving R programming and other topics covered in the boot camp will allow the faculty to move further into advanced topics, while increasing the time spent on dashboard and reporting tools such as Tableau and SAP in MAS 639. All of these tools are in demand today, and producing graduates competent working with them will improve their prospects on the job market.

Effective Dates: The proposed change to include MAS 650 as an alternative to BUS 641 will be in effect from spring 2018. The remaining proposed changes will be in effect from fall 2018.

Impact on Faculty Resources: No impact is anticipated.

MEMORANDUM

TO: General Welfare Committee
Faculty Senate

FROM: Patricia Sanchez Abril, Vice Dean, Graduate Business Programs

Subject: Curriculum Change: Master of Science in Management

Date: December 12, 2017

Proposal: To restructure the curriculum for the Master of Science in Management. (See attached proposal by Dr. Linda Neider, diagram, and progress sheets for details.)

Background: The Master of Science in Management seeks to update its curriculum. Currently the program has 30 students.

Reasoning:

- See attached proposal for details on specific reasoning.

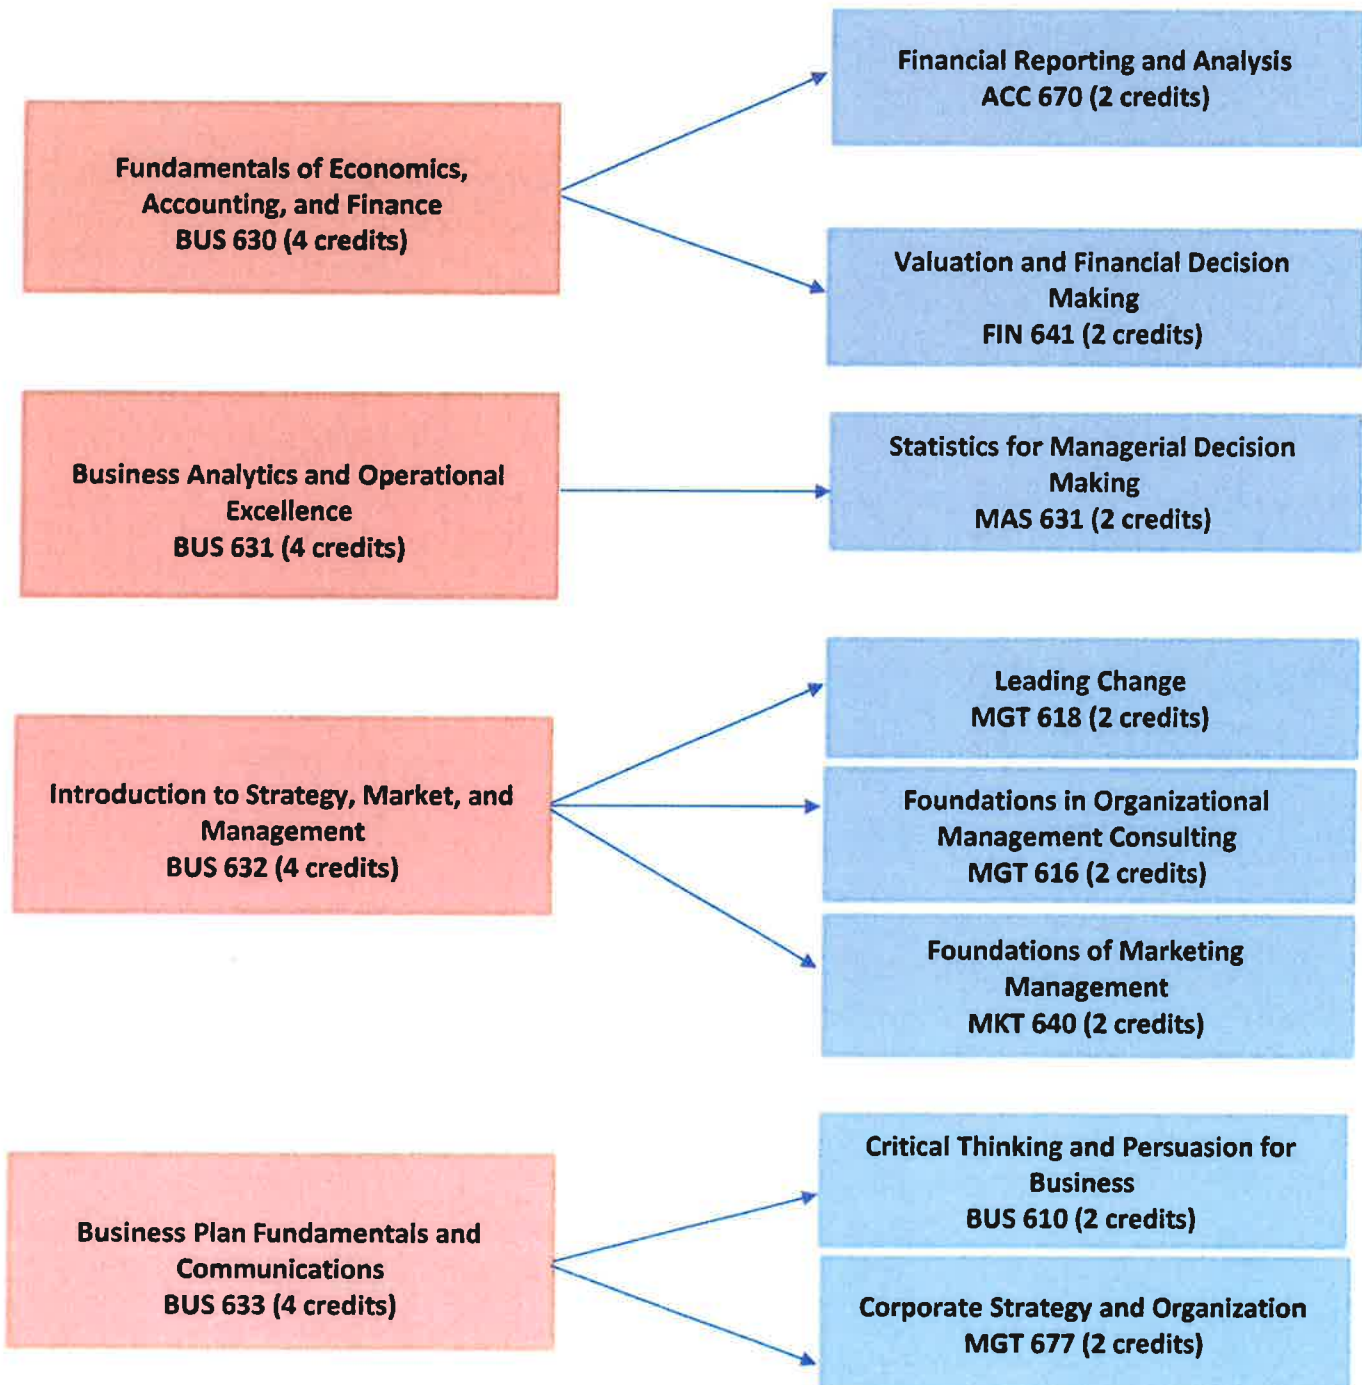

Resource Implications: New course offerings (MGT 618 and MGT 616).

Procedural History:

- Ad Hoc Task Force on Graduate Business Programs – Discussed and approved 11/3/2017
- Graduate Business Programs Committee – Discussed and approved 11/22/2017
- School of Business Administration School Council – Discussed and approved 12/1/2017

Considerations	Recommended Changes
Split each of the 4-credit courses (630, 631, 632, & 633) into eight separate courses (each worth 2 credits) in order to focus on single topics, meet clearer expectations/goals, and avoid (team-taught) conflicting goals from their professors.	Substitute BUS 630 for ACC 670 and FIN 641 BUS 631 for MAS 631 BUS 632 for MGT 618, MGT 616, and MKT 640 BUS 633 for BUS 610 and MGT 677

*Please note that courses may be substituted on a case-by-case basis as determined by the program's Academic Director.

FROM: Patricia Sanchez Abril, Vice Dean, Graduate Business Programs

Subject: Curriculum Change: Master in International Business

Date: December 12, 2017

Proposal: To restructure the curriculum for the Master in International Business. (See attached proposal, diagram, and progress sheets by Dr. Joseph Ganitsky, Program Director.

Background: The Master in International Business seeks to update its curriculum. Currently the program has 28 students.

Reasoning:

- See attached proposal for details on specific reasoning.

Resource Implications: None.

Procedural History:

- Ad Hoc Task Force on Graduate Business Programs – Discussed and approved 11/3/2017

Master in International Business (MIB) Considerations and Recommended Changes to Program

Considerations	Recommended Changes
1- Some students need remedial English (for most non-native English speakers) and Statistics (for those lacking previous backing statistical training)	Add Intensive English (starting in June) (TBD) (0 cr) MAS 610 (2 week Bootcamp in early August) (2 cr)
2- Split each of the 4-credit BUS courses (630, 631, 632 & 633) into two separate courses (each worth 2 credits). To focus on single topics, meet clearer expectations /goals, and avoid (team-taught) conflicting goals from their professors	Substitute BUS 630 for ACC 670 and FIN 641 BUS 631 for MGT 643 and MGT 645 BUS 632 for MKT 640 and MGT 620 BUS 633 for BUS6 610 and MGT 628
3-Students must command skills that increase their placement chances among Multinationals including those with regional HQ in S. Florida	Add MGT 677 Corporate Strategy and Organization
4- Students must command skills that increase their placement chances among Int'l Logistics / Global Supply Chain players	By taking MAS 610, MGT 643 and MGT 645 (listed in 1 and 2) students achieve this goal
5- Students must enhance their command of marketing research / and use of big data	Substitute MKT 645 International Marketing for MKT 675 Marketing Analytics
6- Improve Experiential Learning 6.1. Global Business Consulting (GBC) (BUS 622)* (Optional – student must apply) A- Eliminate extra fees (covered by credit pay) B- Offer a better GBC schedule C- Competitive: Select only stronger/ better qualified students matching project's needs 6.2. Eliminate BUS 642--IB Practicum	A- Student's pay for their international air fare B- Start in Spring's first week and end by last week of the semester (requires adjusting schedule for courses taken during 2 nd Quarter Spring) C- Add MGT 628—Global Entrepreneurship D- Students who are accepted into BUS 622 are able to waive MGT 628 and MKT 675,
7- Scheduling changes to A- Adjust to the program's full-time nature B- Reduce chances of full-time students working and thus becoming part-timers C- Offer a more balance work load D- Create weekend opportunities for students to travel throughout the USA E- Make better use of SBA's facilities	A- If classrooms and instructors are available, schedule classes during weekday, in day hours, avoiding evening classes B- Each course: Two 2 hour sessions / week for 7 weeks

* * BUS 622 Students participating and enrolled in BUS 622 may be waived from taking MGT 628 and MKT 675.

 Please note that courses may be substituted on a case-by-case basis as determined by the program's Academic Director.
