Dear Dr. Bhattacharya,

I write to request the Medical School Council support changing the name of the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine Michael S. Gordon Center for Research in Medical Education (GCRME) to the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine Michael S. Gordon Center for Simulation and Innovation in Medical Education, which may be abbreviated University of Miami Miller School of Medicine Gordon Center for Simulation and Innovation in Medical Education (GCSIMed)

This name change is a result of careful and thoughtful deliberation between me, Dean Abraham and Dr. Gardner, the Executive Dean for Education and Policy. The new name restores the recognition of the center in its 50-year preeminent role as a pioneer in the development and dissemination of simulation in medical education (its original name was 'Medical Training and Simulation Laboratory'. During this time, the Gordon Center has created and implementation numerous innovations in the training and assessment of students and providers in a wide range of life-saving skills that are used at more than 2,000 institutions worldwide. This name change will assist the medical school in the promotion of Gordon Center activities that will lead to enhancements in sustained funding sources.

This is a name change only and does not alter the mission, structure, or programs of the Center which have been previously reviewed and approved.

I would appreciate your consideration of this request. Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

S. Barry Issenberg, MD
