Date: October 23, 2019

RE: Closure of the Athletic Training Undergraduate Program

Date of Closure

The Athletic Training Strategic Alliance consisting of the Board of Directors of the NATA and the Commissioners of the CAATE with the support of the BOC and the NATA Foundation have jointly acted to establish master's level as the professional degree for athletic training (AT). Baccalaureate programs may not admit, enroll, or matriculate students into the athletic training program after the start of the fall term 2022.

As a result of the action taken above, the University of Miami's AT faculty have elected to begin the closure process by no longer admitting students to the undergraduate program, effective 2020.

Notification

Students will be notified by the program's academic advisor. In addition, a statement of the change will be posted on the program's website.

Teach-out Plan

Attached is a teach-out plan for the final cohort group currently enrolled in the program. No additional charges or expenses to the student will be incurred as a result of this plan.

Faculty Impact

Current faculty will continue to teach in the undergraduate program and transition into the new Master's program when their classes are scheduled.

Action Requested

On September 9, 2019, the KIN faculty unanimously approved this closure. The KIN department asks for the Curriculum Committee's approval to close the program.

Re: Closure of the Undergraduate Athletic Training Program & Opening of the Graduate of Athletic Training Program

The Department of Kinesiology and Sport Sciences has put forth two proposals. First, to close the undergraduate program in Athletic Training. This decision is following Athletic Training's accrediting body mandating all programs across the nation to switch to a graduate degree by 2020. We request to close the undergraduate program in Athletic Training. Secondly, We propose to open a graduate program in Athletic Training. The Master's in Athletic Training (MSAT) program would begin July of 2020.

The 2 proposals have been approved as follows:

- The Department in its March 2, 2020 faculty meeting (unanimous)
- The SEHD School Council in its March 23, 2020 meeting (unanimous)
